Children in Need

Oxford class have been exploring electrical circuits in Science

Cheviot and Herdwick classes are learning about Space and took part in a live lesson with 'Space Detective' Jo Robinson

Some children in school were celebrating Diwali this week and wore their special clothes to school.

The children have had a very positive and settled return to school this week after the half-term break. They have started to learn songs for a special Remembrance collective worship. Perhaps you could ask to hear them sing and help them learn the words at home.
